We understand how frustrating it can be having a new baby. Here you will find all the resources that you need for yourself and your New Baby!

Current info for moms and their first baby are not always the easiest thing to locate. Fortunately, 1st-Time-Mom includes the latest information for mothers with new babies.

A new baby is a glorious experience in any mothers life, but it can also be unusually stressful.

Unfortunately, a baby does not come with a Mother and Baby handbook! That is were 1st-Time-Mom.com comes to your aid.

Personally having had to cope with a new baby that spent the first 6 weeks of his life in the NIC-U, I appreciate that being a new mother can be a daunting experience. There are numerous questions that can run through one's thoughts.

- What do I name my baby?
- Why is my baby crying?
- Why does my baby appear to be in pain?
- My baby has a rash on her behind - what did I do wrong and how do I fix it?
- My baby does not want to sleep! Why?
- When can I feed my baby their first solids?
